Glacial Trails offers 1-, 2-acre lots

About 65 miles northwest of Chicago amid horse farms and rolling conservation property is Reserve One Homes' latest community, Glacial Trails.

Glacial Trails is in the village of Ringwood. Reserve One Homes will build on many of the 57 1- to 2-acre home sites, while the rest will be built by a select group of quality builders. In addition, the community will offer buildable home sites that run from $114,500 to $179,800.

All homes in Glacial Trails will have cedar or hardy board siding, architectural-shingle roofs, aluminum-clad wood windows, and three-car garages. Ranch homes will start at 2,200 square feet and two-story homes will range from 2,800 to more than 4,000 square feet. Prices will run from $340,000 to $500,000 for these three to six-bedroom, 2- to 4½-bath homes.

Reserve One single-family homes include basements, walk-in closets, volume master bedroom ceilings, decorator light fixtures, custom-finished hardwood kitchen cabinets, Frigidaire appliances, dual bowl bathroom vanities with cultured-marbled tops, hardwood flooring in the foyer and powder room and ceramic tile in the full baths.

To get to Glacial Trails from Route 31 and Route 120, take Route 31 north two miles (past Johnsburg Road) to Hart Road. Turn right on Hart Road and continue one mile to Pioneer Road. Go right on Pioneer Road one-half mile — then look for the large Glacial Trails sign on the right.

To get to the sales office, which is at Running Brook Farm, a nearby Reserve One Homes development, take Route 31 north to Route 120. Go east on Route 120 one-half mile to Riverside Drive. Turn north on Riverside and go two miles to Running Brook Farm Boulevard, then follow the signs.

For more information on Glacial Trails, call (815) 675-0800.

The sales office is open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sundays through Fridays and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays, or by appointment. Visit Reserve One's Web site at www.reserveonehomes.com.
